London in the 1950s. A mysterious house, home to a family that has seen better days, will not yield its secrets. And a love affair turns to tragedy...

Greene, one of the foremost writers of the 20th century, based the play on his own passionate but doomed affairs, and his conflicted view of Catholicism. The production includes an interview with the foremost biographer of Graham Greene, Dr. Norman Sherry.

Directed by Natakı Garrett Executive Producer Susan Albert Loewenberg
