

AMERICAN SPARTANS • JAMES A. WARREN •

THE U.S. MARINES: A COMBAT HISTORY FROM IWO JIMA TO IRAQ

READ BY DICK HILL

James A. Warren's battle-driven history shows how this elite culture has produced the best warriors in the country, through six decades, several open wars, and many smaller interventions. From their heroic performance in the Pacific War against Japanese troops on God-forsaken islands, to their "tip-of-the-lance" leadership in key operations in the two Gulf Wars, the Marines have proven again and again that elite men with elite training are worth entire armies.

This is the first modern history of the Marines in a generation and the first to show how battlefield performance has driven the Marines, from the Cold War to the War on Terror.

"A vivid and compelling account that pays tribute not only to the valor of Marines in wartime but to the grit, adaptability, and shrewdness of the Marine Corps between wars." —Andrew Bacevich, author of The New American Militarism

Dick Hill

James A. Warren is an executive editor at Columbia University Press, where he publishes books on military history, among other subjects.

Dick Hill, named a "Golden Voice" by AudioFile magazine, is one of the most awarded narrators in the business, having earned three Audie Awards and numerous Earphones Awards. In addition to narrating, he has both acted and written for the theater. He and his wife, narrator Susie Breck, live in Michigan.

Running Time: Approx. 13.5 hours • Unabridged

© 2005 by James Warren

Published by arrangement with Free Press,
a Division of Simon & Schuster, Inc.

© 2005 by Blackstone Audio, Inc.

Digitally Mastered / All rights reserved.

www.BlackstoneAudio.com

PLAYAWAY®

AMERICAN SPARTANS • JAMES A. WARREN •
THE U.S. MARINES: A COMBAT HISTORY FROM IWO JIMA TO IRAQ
READ BY DICK HILL

1257

PLAYAWAY®

Playaway is a better listening experience combining an easy-to-use player with an entire audiobook. Ask your librarian for more details!

WWW.PLAYAWAY.COM

© 2007 Playaway. Patent Approved.

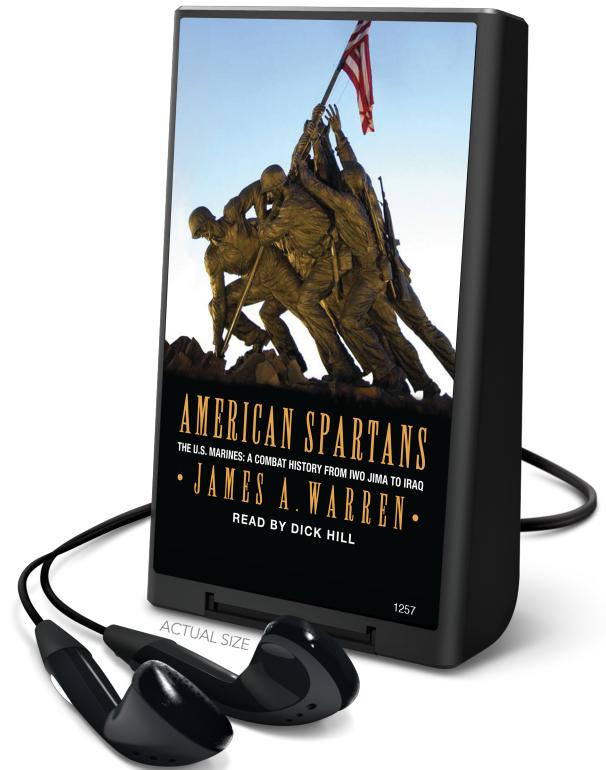

All rights reserved. Designed in Ohio. Made in China.

LIGHT

PLAYAWAY®

THE ALL-IN-ONE AUDIOBOOK

PLAYAWAY® and associated logos are registered trademarks of Findaway World, LLC.
31999 Aurora Road, Solon, OH 44139 USA