

HISTORY OF THE WORLD (UPDATED)

J. M. ROBERTS

READ BY FREDERICK DAVIDSON

J. M. Roberts has revised his monumental previous work, History of the World, taking into account the great range of events and discoveries that have altered our views on everything from early civilizations to post-Cold War globalism. With his powerful vision and voice, Roberts succeeds in conveying the staggering diversity of human experience.

Roberts's view of history is exceptional in its global and comprehensive nature, showing the development of different civilizations through the ages, from our origins on the African savannah through the modern world in the wake of the terrorist attacks of 2002.

J. M. ROBERTS was born in England and educated at Oxford. After national service he returned to Oxford as a Fellow. He has also held posts in the United States, at Princeton and Columbia University, among others. He was general editor of The New Oxford History of England and authored several influential books of history. He died in 2003.

FREDERICK DAVIDSON (1932–2005) was born in London and trained at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art. He performed in BBC radio plays before coming to America in 1976. The narrator of more than eight hundred audiobooks, he garnered numerous Earphones Awards and a Grammy nomination for his readings. He was named a Golden Voice by AudioFile magazine in 1997.

Running Time: 54½ Hours • Unabridged
