READ BY STEVE WEST

Captain Caleb Frobisher, hedonistic youngest son of a seafaring dynasty, wants to be taken seriously by his family but understands he must prove himself sufficiently reformed. When opportunity strikes, he seizes the next leg of the covert mission his brothers have been pursuing and sails to Freetown. His actions are decisive, and he completes the mission's next stage. But he chooses to remain in the jungle to guard the captives whose rescue is the mission's ultimate goal.

Katherine Fortescue came to Freetown as a governess, only to be kidnapped and made to oversee workers at a mine. There seemed no way to escape. Then she meets a handsome man in the jungle, who brings the promise of rescue. The mercenary who runs the mine has other ideas, but Caleb's strength lies in extracting advantage from adversity. Through the clashes, he matures into the leader he was destined to be, a man Katherine can trust—with her body, her life, and her love.

“Adventure addicts adore Laurens’ quartet focusing on four brothers who must each complete a piece of a puzzle before the mystery can be solved...A must-read.”
