

Super Bowl XLII was the greatest upset in NFL history. In A GIANT WIN, Coach Tom Coughlin recounts the strategies and people that made it possible.

Coach Coughlin reveals the intricacies of the game, sharing details only a coach would know. He also opens up about his relationships with the iconic players on those Giants teams, including Eli Manning and Michael Strahan.

A GIANT WIN also provides a frame for Coach Coughlin to discuss his life in football—including his years with the Giants as an assistant coach in the late 1980s and 1990, when he helped win a Super Bowl working under Hall of Fame Head Coach Bill Parcells and alongside the coach he'd oppose in Super Bowl XLII: Bill Belichick.

A GIANT WIN is a self-portrait of one of football history's most successful coaches during his signature game.

Tom Coughlin is a former National Football League head coach who was part of three New York Giants Super Bowl-winning teams, twice as head coach. He won his first Super Bowl while an assistant to legendary coach Bill Parcells in 1990. In 2004, he joined the New York Giants for twelve seasons as head coach, leading the Giants to victory in Super Bowl XLII and Super Bowl XLVI, both times beating the New England Patriots. Coughlin ranks as the fourteenth winningest coach in NFL history with 170 wins.

Greg Hanlon is an editor at People magazine who has written for Sports Illustrated, the New York Times, and Slate. His writing has been anthologized in The Best American Sports Writing. He was a 2015 finalist in national reporting for the Livingston Awards for Young Journalists. He is the co-author of Watch My Smoke: The Eric Dickerson Story.
