

*Every citizen of England is granted
one bargain from their immortal fae queen.*

High society girls are expected to bargain for qualities that will win them suitors: A rare talent for piano in exchange for one's happiest childhood memory. A perfect smile for one's ability to taste.

But Ivy's debut season arrives with a shocking twist—a competition to marry the queen's fae son, Prince Bram. It's a prize that could save Ivy's family from ruin . . . and free her older sister from the bargain that destroyed her.

Yet every glittering fae deal has a rotting heart. And amidst lavish balls, vicious competition, and a dangerous alliance with the prince's rakish younger brother, Prince Emmett, Ivy realizes that at the center of this contest lies a dark plot that could destroy all of England—and her heart with it.
