

FOR THE TOWN OF LIBERTÉ, THE FOURTH OF JULY IS ABOUT MORE THAN JUST FIREWORKS . . .

Twelve-year-old Savvy's only ambition is to be chosen as Miss Liberty in her town's glitter-tastic Fourth of July parade. In her mind, being Miss Liberty is the key to getting everything you want for the rest of your life. And Savvy's anxious mind needs to know what's going to happen for the rest of her life, just like she needs to know the weather forecast every single day. Unfortunately, Savvy is only a dancer in the kickline, while her older sister, Levi, is the glamorous Miss Liberty for the third year in a row.

But this year, Levi seems committed to taking down the parade and crushing Savvy's future dreams, for reasons that neither Savvy nor the town can understand.

Only one thing is certain: it's up to Savvy to bring the glitter back to her beloved parade, her town, and her sister.

ERIN MOONYEEN HALEY has been, by turns, an educator, a dancer, a dance instructor, and a bookseller. After graduating with a degree in writing for film and television from the University of the Arts in Philadelphia, Erin spent time in Hollywood working at A-list talent agencies and production companies. Today, she's a librarian who also teaches English, history, and art history at a Philadelphia-area school for gifted students. Miss Liberty is her first novel.
