

HALF-WITCH KIKI never runs from a challenge. So when her thirteenth birthday arrives, she's eager to follow a witch's tradition: find a new town to call home for one year.

Brimming with confidence, Kiki flies to the seaside village of Koriko and expects that her powers will easily bring happiness to the townspeople. But gaining the trust of the locals and finding success is trickier than expected. With her faithful, wisecracking black cat, Jiji, by her side, Kiki forges new friendships and builds her inner strength, ultimately realizing that magic can be found in even the most ordinary places.

Blending fantasy with the charm of everyday life, this new translation of Eiko Kadono's beloved classic, which inspired the enchanting animated film, will bewitch the hearts of new readers and dedicated fans alike.

EIKO KADONO has published nearly two hundred original works and received many accolades, including but not limited to the Hans Christian Andersen Award and a place on the IBBY Honor List for Kiki's Delivery Service. She lives in the Kanagawa prefecture of Japan.
