

Rashid Khalidi invites readers to learn more about Palestine in what is both a deeply personal and yet expansive account of the last hundred years of the country's history. Blending detailed research with firsthand experiences, this book is equal parts compelling and informative—the perfect educational resource for all ages. From the Balfour Declaration to Israel's siege of the Gaza Strip, Khalidi delivers a thorough portrait of the intricacies of the geopolitical conflict occurring in the Middle East while keeping the text broadly accessible.

Rashid Khalidi is the author of The New York Times and international bestseller The Hundred Years' War on Palestine and seven other books about the Middle East. He is the Edward Said Chair Emeritus in Arab Studies at Columbia University and was the editor of the Journal of Palestine Studies. He has written more than one hundred thirty articles on Middle Eastern history and politics, as well as pieces in The New York Times, The Boston Globe, The Los Angeles Times, The Chicago Tribune, and many other journals.
