

NYPD homicide detective Lieutenant Eve Dallas never knows what to expect when she gets word of a body. It could be an elderly man who made the mistake of climbing a ladder in slippery footwear. And the next call could be a wealthy biotech executive beaten to death in his home office—but what was Larry Chu's mistake?

The victim's corpse is so mangled and damaged it's hard to believe a lone, unarmed assailant could have managed it. The killer was clearly unnaturally strong—and smart enough to find a way into Chu's highly secure building. Most of all, whoever did this was very, very angry.

The excessive violence leads Dallas to conclude that this was a deeply personal act, born of a rage that she can't excuse but can understand, thanks to her own traumatic past.

And though the motive seems rooted in heated emotion rather than cold, hard cash, she can't ignore the suspicious bank account in the Cayman Islands, or the shadowy, profit-hungry company Chu worked for. The mystery grows when it turns out Chu isn't the only victim—and Dallas will need to tear through one layer of secrecy after another to reveal what lies behind this explosion of fury.
