A SHERIFF MILT KOVAK MYSTERY

Narrated by Tom Stechschulte

"A crazy plot, a nice tragicomic feel, weird characters, and a healthy helping of down-home, laugh-out-loud humor make this a lively, fun, and funny read."

—Booklist

Susan Rogers Cooper's Sheriff Milt Kovak mysteries are praised for their humor and meticulous plots. This ninth entry in the series finds Milt dealing with a perplexing crime wave.

Normally Prophesy County, Oklahoma, is pretty quiet—so quiet that Milt doesn't think there's any problem with hiring a lone temporary guard to keep watch while the locals attend the wedding of deputies Emmett Hopkins and Jasmine Bodine. Big mistake. When the emergency siren goes off during the ceremony, Milt and his compatriots rush back to see what's the matter. Arriving on the scene, Milt discovers one man seriously wounded, and the temp murdered. Looks like Milt's got his hands full, and it's going to take some serious work to sort everything out.

Tom Stechschulte's gritty performance as Sheriff Milt puts listeners right in the middle of the action. And for more of Milt's adventures, be sure to pick up Vegas Nerve, also from Recorded Books.
