

Jayne Ann Krentz RIVER ROAD

Narrated by Amanda Leigh Cobb

A brand-new, quintessential Jayne Ann Krentz romance—the latest from the New York Times–bestselling author of Dream Eyes and Copper Beach.

It's been thirteen years since Lucy Sheridan was in Summer River. The last time she visited her aunt Sara there, as a teenager, she was dragged out of a wild party—by the older guy she had a crush on, just to make it more embarrassing. Obviously Mason Fletcher—only nineteen but with a personality that seemed unsettlingly grown-up—was the overprotective type, who thought he had to come to her rescue.

Now, returning after her aunt's fatal car accident, Lucy is learning there was more to the story than she realized at the time. Mason saved her from a very nasty crime that night—and soon afterward, Tristan, the cold-blooded rich kid who'd targeted her, disappeared mysteriously, his body never found.

A lot has changed since that long-ago summer. Lucy now works for a private investigation company as a forensic genealogist, while Mason has quit the police force to run a successful security firm with his brother—though he still knows his way around a wrench when he fills in at his uncle's local hardware store. Even Summer River has changed, from a sleepy farm town into a trendy upscale spot in California's wine country. But Mason is still a protector at heart, a serious (and seriously attractive) man. And when he and Lucy make a shocking discovery inside Sara's house, and some of Tristan's old friends start acting suspicious, Mason's quietly fierce instincts kick into gear. He saved Lucy once, and he'll save her again. But this time, she insists on playing a role in her own rescue.
